PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

6/08-present JNC CONSULTING— San Francisco, CA

Owner

Work collaboratively with foundations, progressive non-profits, and public health agencies to conduct comprehensive evaluations and create outstanding programs.

12/00-6/08 CALIFORNIA BREAST CANCER RESEARCH PROGRAM -Oakland, CA

University of California Office of the President

Coordinator of Special Projects

Since 1994, the California Breast Cancer Research Program has awarded over $200 million in over 700 breast cancer research grants. As Coordinator of Special Projects, I provided leadership, project management, and coordination of long-term program initiatives including strategic planning, program evaluation, and development of new research priorities.

- Special Research Initiatives (SRI): Developed research priorities for $23 million major initiatives addressing the environmental links to breast cancer and the unequal burden of the disease. Collaborated with management team, led planning process, implemented stakeholder meetings, coordinated workgroups, and wrote communication documents.
- Strategic Planning and Priority-Setting: Developed and implemented multi-phase strategic planning process. Led Advisory Council, conducted analyses, wrote data summaries, commissioned position papers, and coordinated decision-making retreat.
- Program Evaluation: Collaborated with a wide variety of program stakeholders (breast cancer advocates, researchers, clinicians, and industry representatives) to create a program evaluation plan. Oversaw study design, data analysis, writing and production of evaluation reports for both lay and scientific audiences.

- Other Duties: Led International Cancer Research Partners (ICRP) outcomes subcommittee to compile and develop evaluation trends and best practices. Recruited, hired, and trained seven staff members, four consultants, and four interns to support program activities. Provided hiring expertise to colleagues.

6/99-12/00 CONWAL, INC/Contract with CDC—McLean, VA

Qualitative Research Coordinator

Led the qualitative component of a large multidisciplinary research project exploring the context in which CDC-funded CBOs function.

- Conducted focus groups, site visits, in-depth interviews and observations with CDC staff and CBO staff located around the US.
- Produced final report including recommendations to the CDC.
- Wrote executive summary versions of final qualitative report for various audiences including project officers at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), staff at community-based organizations (CBOs), and health department personnel.
- Supervised two full-time and two part-time research team staff.
- Met all project deadlines, managed complex scheduling and timelines.

6/99 CAMBRIDGE HEALTH ALLIANCE AIDS PROGRAM--Cambridge, MA

Evaluation Consultant

- Developed comprehensive outcome evaluation plan for multi-faceted AIDS program including HIV Testing and Counseling, Outreach, Safety Net program, case management and clinical care for HIV positive individuals.

7/97-5/99 ROLLINS SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH, EMORY UNIVERSITY--Atlanta, GA

Project Coordinator for the Health Intervention Project (HIP)

- Utilized motivational interviewing and stages of change assessment to deliver theory-based HIV intervention for African American women who use drugs.
- Conducted quantitative baseline, exit, and follow-up interviews.
- Implemented client-centered pre and post-test HIV test counseling.
- Conducted qualitative research which contributed to development of the HIP intervention.

9/92-8/96 BRATTLEBORO AREA AIDS PROJECT-- Brattleboro, VT

Women's Program Coordinator

Developed, implemented, and evaluated award winning HIV prevention programs for women and girls in high risk situations.

- Partnered with a collaborative team that brought women together to address the connections between HIV/AIDS, domestic violence, sexual abuse, drug use, sexuality, and body image.
- Trained and supervised a peer outreach team, interns, and volunteers.
- Raised funds needed for the women's program.
